EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Peter Nieves on March 20, 2008.

The application has been amended as follows:

In the claims:

In claim 20, line 2, "second" has been deleted.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The present invention is directed to a loudspeaker with an inverted cone. Independent claim 1 identifies the uniquely distinct feature of a stationary actuator secured to a chassis and located above the diaphragm and a movable body in the base part of the diaphragm including a bridging element secured to the movable part extending radially with respect to the translation axis in combination with all the disclosed limitations of claim 1. Independent claim 11 identifies the uniquely distinct feature of a stationary actuator secured to a chassis and located above the diaphragm and a translatable part in the base part of the diaphragm including a bridging element coupled to the translatable part extending radially from the translation axis in combination with all the disclosed limitations of claim 11. Independent claim 21 identifies the uniquely distinct feature of a movable flexible body connected to a chassis comprising a substantially conical shaped diaphragm and a stationary actuator part secured to the chassis on the inwardly conical side of the diaphragm in combination with all the disclosed limitations of claim 21. the closest prior art, Kuze et al (US 6836551) teaches a movable body in the base part of the diaphragm including a bridging element secured to the movable part extending radially with respect to the translation axis but fails to teach a stationary actuator secured to a chassis. The prior art fails to anticipate or render the independent claims obvious.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
